The hunt and the prep, in one place

We do the hunt. You walk in prepared.

Caddie hunts down the roles worth your time, tailors every application, and rehearses the interview with you — so the day itself is the easy part.

THE PROMISE

We do the hunt.
We get you ready.
You walk in prepared.

01

We do the hunt

Caddie reads the postings so you don't have to. It filters out the noise, the expired listings and the roles that were never really open, and brings back the handful worth your attention.

02

We get you ready

Each application gets tailored to the role, in your own words. Then you practise the questions that role actually asks, out loud, as many times as you like.

03

You walk in prepared

Nothing about the day is a surprise. You know the team, you know your story, and you have already said the difficult answer once.

First job at nineteen or a new start at fifty-nine — the hunt is the same, and so is the help.

LOGO & WORDMARK

Caddie

Caddie · Caddie

The mark is a flag planted at the target with the ball already in play: where you are heading, and where you are now. Newsreader at bold weight keeps the wordmark warm rather than corporate.

Same illustration language, same two typefaces, same one accent for the action — an ad and the landing page read as one brand.

MOTION CONCEPT

Motion is the step, not the sparkle.

1 · Step lands · 2 · Bar advances · 3 · Milestone

Arrival	Content rises 12px and fades in, never scales or bounces. 240ms, ease-out.	Calm confidence
Progress	The bar fills toward the next step, the head dot settles with a single soft overshoot. 420ms.	Sense of progress
Milestone	Amber flecks scatter once, briefly, then clear. Reserved for a real milestone — an interview booked, an offer.	Cheerful, earned
Setback	After a rejection nothing animates. The screen simply changes, and the next step is already visible.	Considerate
Illustration	Figures hold still. Only one secondary element loops slowly — a flag, a fleck — at low amplitude.	Warm, not busy

ILLUSTRATION CAST

The cast is deliberately wide: a school leaver, a shift worker, a parent returning, someone changing trade at fifty. Figures are drawn at the same scale and the same warmth — nobody is the exception. One figure per scene, always mid-step, never celebrating alone.

VOICE & MESSAGING

Core promise

We do the hunt. We get you ready. You walk in prepared.

Relief first, readiness second. The relief is that the searching stops being yours. The readiness is that the interview is not the first time you say it out loud.

Paid ad line	Product line	Sign-off
The job hunt, minus the dread.	One clear step a day, and the day is done.	Caddie carries the bag. You play the shot.

TONE — Professional the way a good coach is professional — competent, unhurried, quietly funny.

✓ Four roles worth your morning.	✓ That one stung. Tomorrow's step is smaller.	✓ You have said this answer out loud twice now.
✕ 12,400 people can't be wrong.	✕ Stay positive! 🎉	✕ Unlock your true potential.

Claims we don't make yet

No user counts, no hiring results, no pricing promises, no live domain on any asset — none of it is true yet, and inventing it would undercut the one thing the brand is selling. Credibility comes from the work being described accurately: this is what the product does, in plain words.

MICROCOPY IN PRODUCT

The voice is easiest to get wrong on the three days that matter: an ordinary Tuesday, the day after a rejection, and the moment something goes right.

TODAY · ONE STEP

Practise one answer for the ward manager role. Six minutes, out loud, nobody listening.

Start the step →

AFTER A NO

They went with someone else. That one stung — you had done the work.

Tomorrow's step is a small one: two roles to look at, nothing to write.

INTERVIEW BOOKED

Thursday, 10:00. You have already answered their hardest question four times.

One round of amber, then back to work. The celebration is short on purpose.
